

My Brief

Falade Femi Adetola

Personal Ambition

The state of academics, politics and religion which are basic fundamentals to a healthier nation has been a serious concern to me since my childhood. All my labours are directed toward helping these matters and that formed my personal ambition and vision for my generation. Becoming an outstanding scholar (which I have been pursuing through rigorous study, including researches and through published and unpublished materials), a Truth Preacher, (which I have already been pursuing by learning and ministrations in spiritual settings and Theology school), and Political adviser (which I have engaged myself in since 2010) are things that drive me daily and which I invest all my time.

Academic Goal

I have chosen as a student not only to be the best, but to positively influence people around me in all facets. My academic goals are outstanding. I have desired to specialize in Economic History and International Economics even to professor level. This is said to be lagging behind in our present academic world. This ambition has been helped by investigating into the field hence, compiled a course note on the subject of Economic History titled "A Short Introduction to Economic History" co-authored with two of like minds colleague.

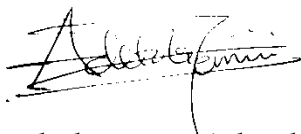

Vision for Nigeria

As I have said in my personal ambition, my own Jerusalem must first partake of this vision. Nigeria politics is dishearten and need ardent step. The truth are buried and the academic world has failed to produce trustworthy academicians or students who can turn the case around. I have been sent I believe, to proffer solutions to these problems and I believe I will.

Reasons for the Scholarship

My personal ambition needs help, I need assistance, my vision for my dear country must be helped, my academic goal cannot be achieved without certain help from noble institutions like Association of Nigerians Abroad, a set of intellectuals and successful individuals who have ones passed through such problematic situation of our helpless society and have stand to help others, whom I also love to join someday.

Thank You.

Falade Femi Adetola
(08067342381) femlex1@gmail.com